

Mrs. Pinney's Weekly Update

9-27-13

Our Learning Goals for Next Week

Reading- We have learned all vowel sounds of vowel town. During reading groups we will work on segmenting words.

Writing- We will continue handwriting and capitalization and punctuation. We will also work on writing simple sentences.

Math- We will continue to solve subtraction story problems.

Science – We are doing experiments that take us through the steps of the scientific method.

Homework

Your child will bring home their homework every Friday. In the folder there are 2 baggie books and 1 math practice sheet. Please remember to read the 2 books I put in the folder and write the titles of those books on the reading log. I would appreciate it if you would put a check mark on how your child read the book. S column means someone read the book to your child. H column means I read it to someone with HELP. M column means I read it to someone by MYSELF. You can also put in library books if you would like. Please make sure the math sheet gets back into the folder! Thanks!
